UD'S BAND-O-RAMA OFFERS WIDE RANGE OF MUSIC, FAVORITES FROM SEVERAL GENERATIONS

DAYTON, Ohio — From John Philip Sousa's military marches to the Beatles' early rock 'n' roll, the University of Dayton's Band-O-Rama will offer music for several generations.

Five University of Dayton bands and a dance squad will perform at the third annual Band-O-Rama at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 15, at the Masonic Temple, located at 525 W. Riverview Ave. next to the Dayton Art Institute.

Tickets are available at the door and cost $5 for adults and $2 for children and senior citizens. Admission is free for children who are 5 years old and younger.

The 140-member Pride of Dayton marching band, including the Flyerettes dance squad, will perform excerpts from their fall halftime show, including "Firedance" by Woody Herman and "Caravan" by Duke Ellington. The band, led by interim director Douglas Whitten, will also play UD's fight song "Victory" and music from groups such as Earth, Wind and Fire and the Beatles.

Jazz music such as Bob Meyers' "I Can Cook for Two" and David Kathy's "Hi! Hey! Ho!" will be performed by the Jazz Ensemble, directed by Willie Morris III. Morris also directs the First Flight Saxophone Quartet, which will perform music by Jelly Roll Morton.

The UD Horn Choir, a group of french horn musicians directed by Richard Chenoweth, will perform traditional hunting horn songs and Viennese folk melodies and dance music in their "Evening of Vienna" performance.

John Philip Sousa's march "The Black Horse Troup" and Leonard Bernstein's "Overture to Candide" will be performed by the Symphonic Wind Ensemble, directed by Patrick Reynolds, who is also coordinating Band-O-Rama.
